

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXIII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1895.

NO. 23

BRODHEAD, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Born, to the wife of Mr. Jesse Roberts, a fine girl.
—Miss Sallie Pursell is now with Mrs. J. R. Cass in the mantua making business. Mr. and Mrs. Woodyard are visiting relatives in Rowland.
—Mrs. Dr. J. M. Clark spent a few days in Livingston last week. Mr. Wm. Cable, of the Freedom neighborhood, has moved to Livingston.
—A. J. Pike will have a colt show in Brodhead the 25th of this month at 10 A. M. and he asks all who wish to see the best lot of P. A. Denmarks ever shown in this county to attend and every citizen who has one of that thoroughbred family will bring it along.

—Mr. James Pigg, of Corbin, called on one of our young belles this week. Mr. R. Hamon left for Jellico Tuesday. Mrs. B. R. Wilmoth will give a strawberry supper at her hotel on the night of the 25th inst. Mr. E. Walden returned Sunday night from Winchester.

—Miss Loretta Lee Yakey visited Crab Orchard friends last week. Mr. Samuel Hysinger was here Sunday. Mrs. Turpin, of Berea, who has been visiting her daughters here, Mrs. J. W. Tate and Mrs. A. E. Albright, returned home last Sunday. Mr. R. L. Davison, Brodhead's dentist, spent a few days here this week practicing his profession. Mr. Vic Owens has been among us again and we know a few girls who always seem to be happy when he comes. Bro. Pike filled his appointment with his new church at Buckeye Saturday and Sunday and he goes to Gilead church in Madison county next Saturday and Sunday. Mr. C. E. Enterman, of Toledo, was here this week.

—There will be a great sensational drama played at the Christian church Friday and Saturday nights, entitled "The Social Glass" or Victims of the Botte. The troupe is made up of Dr. Percy Benton, Miss Pearl Newland, Will A. Carson, Miss Lizzie Heron, Ed Newland, J. Thomas Cherry, W. C. Cable, Miss Jennie Reynolds and J. F. Watson. The proceeds are to go to their Sunday school. They also have a good play for Saturday night, "Out in the Street." The same actors as above, with Misses M. B. and Mand M. Watson added. We judge from the parties that have gotten it up that it will be first-class entertainment so we ask our people to liberally patronize them, as the proceeds go to a good cause.

MIDDLEBURY, CASEY COUNTY.

—A 12 pound girl arrived at D. G. Elliott's Monday.

—Miss Courtney McWhorter died at Mr. Robert Lanham's Monday. She was buried at the Christian church, Tuesday.

—The band will play for the G. A. R. at Mt. Olive on Decoration day. It is hoped that the boys will fare better than when they went there once before.

—Miss Lou Alstott, of Powers Store, is visiting the family of Mc. D. Roalty. Mrs. Ann Roy, of Perryville, is spending a few days with friends of this section.

—The frost Tuesday morning swept everything left by the cut worms and there is a fair prospect for more. Fruit may escape, but the chances are decidedly against it at this writing.

—V. R. Coleman will give the band boys an oyster supper to morrow, Wednesday night, which promises to be an enjoyable affair. The boys seem to be in clover just now. They will start Thursday to Dunnville on a fishing spree to be absent several days.

—John Wheat was tried before Squire J. A. Wall on the 4th, charged with assaulting his sister-in-law, Mrs. Lizzie Wheat. Mrs. Wheat is the widow of Dudley Wheat, who died some two years ago, and the trouble grew out of a division of Mr. J. W. Wheat's estate. It is claimed the heirs are trying to cheat Mrs. Wheat out of her part of the estate. Some two or three weeks ago, Mr. John Wheat is claimed whipped her and drove her from the premises, and she swore out a warrant for him and he was arrested by J. W. McWhorter, Jr. He defended his own case at the trial and plead not guilty, but the jury thought otherwise and fined him $25. The Commonwealth was represented by County Attorney Q. C. Godby and John Beldon.

In Memory of James C. Carson.

WHEREAS, The Allwise Ruler of the universe has removed from us by death on Saturday, May 11, 1895, our brother, James C. Carson, a worthy member of McKinney Lodge, No. 631, F. and A. M., be it Resolved 1. That our lodge has sustained the loss of a good brother.

2. His family a devoted husband and a kind father.

3. The church a consistent member.

4. The community an honorable citizen.

5. That a copy of these resolutions be sent his bereaved family, a copy spread on the minute books of this lodge and a copy sent to the INTERIOR JOURNAL for publication.

J. H. VANHOOKE,
BOWMANSMITH,
ED M. ESTES,
Committee.

LANCASTER, CARRARD COUNTY.

—Dr. W. S. Beazley has arrived and has dental rooms in the Stormes block on Danville street.

—It is rumored that we are to have a wedding in the county soon, but we are not at liberty just yet to tell names.

—The remains of Mr. Eugene Bushy, who died in Mt. Sterling last week, were brought to Lancaster and interred in our cemetery Tuesday.

—Miss Carrie Woods has taken rooms with the Misses Tillet on Danville street. Miss Woods, who is an accomplished musician, has a class of 12.

—Continued improvements are noticeable in many Lancaster homes. 22 house painters and paper hangers are busily at work and can't fill the engagements they have.

—The sad news has been received of the very low condition of Mr. James R. Marrs, the recent editor of the Central Record, who is held here in such high esteem by many friends.

—Some of the prisoners at the county jail made their escape Tuesday. W. A. Arnold, the town marshal, ever on the alert, pursued the fugitives and after a rapid walk to the toll gate on the Sugar Creek road, captured them.

—The recent heavy frosts following in such quick succession have done great damage to vegetation of all kinds. The gardens, the pride of our citizens, are lying low, having felt Jack Frost's icy touch. It is feared much of the fruit is materially injured.

—The Methodist Conference for this district met Tuesday with a goodly number in attendance. The first two days were devoted to Sunday-school work and the last to a review of church work. The presiding elder, Dr. W. N. Vaughan, of Danville, is president of the conference and Rev. W. E. Arnold, of Stanford, secretary.

—Dr. W. S. Vaughan and wife, of Harrisburg, were guests this week of the Misses Tillet. Miss Nellie Johnson is at home from a lengthy visit to her cousin, Mrs. Sam Hardin, of New Albany. Mrs. Robert Grinnan has returned to her home at Cynthiana, after a short visit to her sister, Mrs. Dr. W. N. Bush. Miss Lizzie Thompson is visiting Miss Katie Lee Yeager, of Boyle. Mr. Ed Price and son, Joe, were visiting relatives in Danville Tuesday. Mr. William Shugars and daughters, Misses Lily and Bessie, left last week to visit their brother, Mr. John Shugars, and family, of Sharpsburg, Pa. It is the first visit in 25 years that Mr. Shugars has made to his old home. Mrs. J. S. Chrisman and Miss Tomlinson, of Danville, are guests of Mrs. R. H. Tomlinson. Mrs. Dunn and Miss Cheatham, of Bryantsville, visited the Misses Tillet, Wednesday. Miss Miss Ellen Owaley, who has been on the low bottom lands.

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

—Mrs. Mattie McRoberts has opened a millinery shop here and is doing a fine business.

—There is a prospect of having another Fair here this Summer. It will probably come off some time in July.

—Miss Ovis Lee Moore has returned from Junction City and is now visiting around among her friends in this vicinity.

—Neely Northcutt was again tried before a new jury Saturday for carrying concealed weapons and got 10 days in jail and $25 fine.

—Jesse Royalty, assistant postmaster here and clerk for Mr. J. W. Whipple, went to Louisville Monday, where he will remain one week.

—An Arctic breeze struck this section Monday and on Tuesday morning beans in some gardens looked somewhat dilapidated, but it is hoped that there is not much general damage.

—Mrs. Bettie Moore has the most productive hens in the State. From December up till some time in March she sold 120 dozen eggs, besides a liberal quantity used in the family.

—Lewis Withers, of Stanford, was here last Wednesday with seven bugies and sold one to Sheriff W. C. Adams, of this place. Starting to Dunnville, he sold old man Kidd one on the way to that place. Lewis is always welcome in Liberty.

—Mr. J. A. Goodell, of Mattoon, Ill., superintendent of the jail building business, is here and is actively pushing matters forward. Mr. Goodell appears not only to understand his business, but is a gentleman of culture and has general information on all subjects.

—Great excitement has gotten up in this place in the last few days among children, boys, old men and young, over a new game lately introduced here, with round, polished stones called marbles. It is expected that the craze may reach other parts of the country.

—Oscar and Royal Wilkinson, two of Liberty's most fascinating young men, started in a buggy last Saturday to see their girls at Dunnville. The horse hitched to their vehicle was of a dissipated character and becoming unmanageable, struck off at break neck speed and ran so close to a solid post-and-rail fence that the fence became aggravated and hit the buggy a violent blow, making a first-class wreck of it. We are happy to state, however, that the young gentlemen escaped without any serious injury.

—Since writing the above, George A. Prentiss reports that his garden is ruined by the frost. J. Boyle Stone's garden is also much damaged. Late rains have interfered much with the farmers on the low bottom lands.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The gifts of the women of the Presbyterian church to home missions from April 1, 1894, to Feb. 1, 1895, were $205,500.

—Southern Baptists will spend $150,000 on foreign missions, of which sum Kentucky is expected to contribute $18,000, the top-notch assessment.

—Rev. Thomas R. Bridges, a Carroll county boy, has been called to the pastorate of a Presbyterian church in Newark, N. J., at a salary of $5,000 a year.

—The organization of the Seventh District Union of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor will be held in Danville on next Saturday and Sunday, May 18 and 19.—Advocate.

—A wealthy Ohio man withdrew from a Middletown, O., Methodist church, to the building of which he had contributed $12,000. He was to have been tried for expulsion under the bankruptcy clause of the church discipline.

—The Baptist convention at Washington calls loudly for more workers in the vineyard. Although there are now over 30,000 Baptist churches in the South, there are 3,000 homeless congregations. Most of these are in the Southwest. In Texas alone there are 1,000 Baptist congregations without shelter. The report also states that there are also in the South 10,000,000 people without the gospel, and that 2,000 missionaries are needed within the territory. The next convention will be held in Chattanooga. There all the delegates will be entered free of cost.

—Boiler explosions at Wellsville, N. Y., killed nine and wounded four men.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters find the same sort of results. A pure extract does not contain it and it is necessary to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Sore Rheum and other afflictions caused by impure blood; will drive malaria from the system. For cuts of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion, try Electric Bitters. Entire satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at A. K. Penny's drug store.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Johnson of Marion City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, author of "How to Live," applied the prescription, tried without success every thing else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is the results of which these medicines prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottle at G. L. Penny, Exor's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—The severe freeze Saturday night left the gardens in mourning.

—The Maccabees held their regular meeting last Tuesday evening with good attendance.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Stephens, of Berea, accompanied by Miss Rika Baker visited the old home last week.

—Many ladies are adorning their homes with flowers. Mrs. W. A. Davis has the handsomest collection that we have seen.

—During the absence of Mr. James Maret, on business, W. H. Pettus, of Garrard county, has charge of the railroad office here.

—The numerous friends of the bride were pleased to meet Mr. and Mrs. Yeager, of Bryantsville, during their visit here last week.

—The musical, which was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society by "The Colonels" last Thursday evening, was a brilliant success.

—Drs. Brown and Lovell performed a surgical operation on a young man named Thomason last Thursday morning. The injury was the result of a fall.

—Miss Clara Lightleather died May 14 after a brief illness of spinal trouble. Miss Clara was an unusually bright girl and her mourning parents have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

—While watching her brothers explode caps, Miss Mamie Jones received a painful wound by a piece of broken cap entering her foot. After much suffering the shell was removed and the patient has since recovered.

—Mrs. R. E. Thompson, of Lancaster, is visiting Mrs. Wm. Poynter. Miss Carrie Lair is visiting relatives in Livingston. Mr. and Mrs. Mike McCarty, of Louisville, are spending the honeymoon at the Newcomb Hotel. Mrs. Georgie Rice has returned from Lebanon, O. Mr. R. G. Williams is out from Centre College, Capt. Spradlin has returned from a trip to Tennessee. Miss Berta Martin attended the musical.

—Miss Ella Joplin is attending school at Bowling Green. Miss Ella has taught with great success for several years, but like all good teachers believes in continual advancement and improvement. If our county possessed many more such teachers it would be an advantage to the tax-payers, for hundreds of dollars are paid to teachers yearly, while hundreds of children are idling away their time at home instead of spending it profitably in the school room.

—We understand that a delegation will leave here Thursday headed by Messrs. C. C. Williams, W. H. Spradlin, James I. White and several others for Rock Castle Springs to confer with Mr. Prescott and his engineers as to the feasibility of having the new railroad run from Mt. Vernon Southward to the lands of the Prescott syndicate. We are confident that this committee will place the matter in such a light that a survey of this route will be ordered at once, and after it is done we have no doubt as to the result, for it is conceded by every person, who has a knowledge of the country that this is by far the best route. Every citizen of Mt. Vernon and this county should do what lies in his power to aid in getting this railroad as it will prove of inestimable value to the county. It will increase the value of land, bring in money and enable the farmers to find ready sale for the products of their farms.

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

—Snow fell in some parts of the country last Sunday and the frost has done considerable damage to crops and gardens, but the cloudy weather has been a great protection to everything the frost could hurt. The farmers are very much behind with their work on account of the wet weather.

—The republican convention met last Monday and instructed the delegates that go to Louisville to vote for Col. W. O. Bradley for nominee for governor and Wm. Blain, of Bell county, for railroad commissioner for this district. Mr. W. R. Black, of Knox county, candidate for the Legislature, was present and made a speech.

—Circuit court opened Monday with Judge Morrow presiding. The Perry county case of Commonwealth vs. Smith and Adkins was continued by the plaintiff and W. C. Eversole, of Perry, is on trial at the present writing for shooting Fields, who is in the Barbourville jail with a life sentence for killing Judge Combs. Several misdemeanor cases have been tried, but it is not thought any civil suit will be reached at the term.

—The republican convention met last Monday and instructed the delegates that go to Louisville to vote for Col. W. O. Bradley for nominee for governor and Wm. Blain, of Bell county, for railroad commissioner for this district. Mr. W. R. Black, of Knox county, candidate for the Legislature, was present and made a speech.

—There are indications of a revival in commercial and financial affairs. It is time. Down in Louisville they tell a story of a man who lost $100,000 in a pork deal. Some one asked him how he stood it. He said: "I didn't mind the loss of the money, but it was the confounded night sweat it gave me." A night sweat that lasts two years is enough to take the sand out of any man.

—N. Y. World.

—Carpets and Mattings.—My prices on these will surprise you. They are all new, not a single piece of carried over stock.

—A Great Bargain.—A black stiff hat, the very latest shay, for $1.15 worth $3. The sequel—Buy and sell for Cash.

STANFORD, KY., - MAY 17, 1895

W. P. WALTON.

6 OR 8 PAGES.
EVERY FRIDAY.

SENATOR LINDSAY's contribution to the arguments for a sound currency are as convincing as they are unanswerable. He treats the question of free silver coinage as one of pure business and says that sentiment has nothing to do with it whatever. The advocates of it ought therefore to waste no time in talking of the money of the constitution, or the 'rights of silver,' or the demerits of gold in the abstract, and remember that high-flown declamation and self-assumed patriotic fervor have no place in the calm and deliberate consideration of a purely business question. The constitution no more requires the free and unlimited coinage of silver than the free and unlimited enlistment of soldiers, or the continual declaration of war. Silver has been demonetized by the joint action of the business world and can only be restored by like joint action. The United States can not independent of other nations adopt a free coinage silver law without producing a contraction of the currency by expelling gold and under existing conditions a contraction of the currency means bankruptcy and ruin. To await the coming of an international monetary conference is to save the country from the consequences of a contraction that all history teaches will follow the free coinage of legal tender money from a metal inferior in market value to the money metal in use in the world at large. We can not exchange 600 million dollars of gold for 600 million dollars of silver without destroying business and impairing the confidence that is beginning to be restored. Judge Lindsay knocks the props from under Senator Blackburn's untenable position by saying as every thoughtful man must that "the stamp of the government was intended to certify the bullion value of the coin, not to create or add to its value." Kentucky's interest, the Senator says, is solely mercantile and she should deprecate legislation that is intended for the benefit of the silver mine owners, who seek to have 50 cents worth of silver converted into a legal tender dollar. Jefferson treated the question as a mercantile problem and Kentuckians would do well to follow his lead. We wish we had space to publish the admirable interview in full. It is clear and exhaustive and should be read and studied by every Kentuckian.

ALL the leading Confederate and many of the Federal generals and other officers will be present at the dedication of the Confederate monument at Chicago memorial day and the occasion will be a notable one. Fire eaters and men who skulked in the rear, when brave men were battling for the cause they loved, are raising a hue and cry over the "desecration" of memorial day, by such a dedication, but the real fighters of the war which ended 30 years ago, see nothing but brotherly love and reconciliation in the demonstration. The blue and the gray will mingle in re-union and all will love the common country better for this exhibition of fraternity. The South will send many car loads of flowers to decorate the graves of her loved ones, who fell so far away from home, and Chicago's enterprising citizens will do all in their power to make the occasion a memorable one.

THE OUTRAGEOUS verdict of acquittal in the Shipp murder case at Lexington caused a number of preachers there to inveigh against the lax administration of justice in their sermons Sunday and to deplore the cheapness in which human life is held in Kentucky. Dr. Bolling was the most outspoken and said that the judge or jury, which failed to punish such crimes as Shipp's, is an enemy to society. The pulpit and press should work in unison in the effort to put down crime by punishing it in the most dignified manner and no opportunity should be lost to force its attention on the people.

EVIDENTLY believing that as Kentucky goes so will go the union on the silver question. President Cleveland is said to be watching with great interest the trend of sentiment in Kentucky. It looks very much now like the free silver lunatics will capture the convention, but it is to be hoped that better judgment will prevail and that the State will not be committed to a policy so ruinous as would be free and unlimited silver coinage independent of the action of other nations.

IT is said that at Ottumwa, Ia., Sunday, the reformed base ball player, Billy Sunday, had 500 men weeping at one time during his sermon. No wonder. The angels must have wept at such a spectacle. A base ball player in a pulpit is apparently as much out of place as a preacher would be in a base ball box.

IT costs the government $108,000 to print the Patent Office Gazette, but private firms propose to do it for $76,000. The government printing office is a huge asylum for Congressional favorites and is not run on business principles at all.

THE Covington Commonwealth thinks that the unpanished shedding of blood in Kentucky is doing vastly more to prevent the development of her resources by foreign capital than so-called imminent legislation. People are afraid to come to a State, where seven murders have occurred in a month—and the men who committed them have, in every case in which a trial has been held, been acquitted, including Shipp, who killed the husband of his negro mistress in the man's own house. When the slayer of his fellowman is held accountable and feels the strong arm of the law fastening the hem about his neck, then Kentucky may hold up to the world her resources and meet with the return her riches and the rightful value at which she holds human life entitle her to expect.

THE idea of getting something "free" is very taking to the masses and that is why "free silver" is so popular. A great many people really believe that if a free coinage bill is passed money will come to them without effort and they will have it to throw to the birds. Free silver, free turnpikes, free lunch and free whisky sound mighty nice to the impecunious and unthinking, who would just as quickly vote for free hotels and free railroads. To get something for nothing seems to be the great desideratum of a large majority of the human family.

JUDGE M. J. DURHAM, of Lexington, writes to request us to reproduce Senator Lindsay's masterful interview on the currency question, adding that it is unanswerable and the people want to be informed on the question. We would do so with pleasure, but for its great length. A synopsis is all that a paper of this size can give such a lengthy interview, as much as we would like to publish it.

COL. BRADLEY will be nominated for governor without opposition and by acclaim, as we predicted six months ago. Already 803 votes have been instructed for him and but 678 are necessary for a choice. If he could make his election as easily sure as he has his nomination, he would sail into the gubernatorial mansion on flowered beds of ease, but there's the rub. We'll meet him at Phillipi.

THE convention to nominate a democratic candidate for railroad commissioner in the Owensboro district is in session in that city, and seems to think that the welfare of the country depends upon its action on the silver question. That district is a hot bed of populists and we may expect a declaration for free silver and everything else free.

TALE OF A TREASURE

MEXICAN'S STORY OF A FABULOUSLY RICH CAVERN.

While Driving a Team Through the Mountains They Discovered a Cave Full of Old Coins—Why They Did Not Take Possession of the Find.

If Adam Fischer of San Antonio, Tex., meets with the success that he expects in a project which he now has on foot he will be one of the richest men in the world. Several months ago he met a Mexican named Antonio Martinez. This Mexican had just arrived from Monterey, and in a burst of confidence he related a marvelous story of hidden treasure to Mr. Fischer. Martinez is at present employed on the street commissioneer's force.

"About ten years ago," said Martinez, "I was a teamster in Mexico. On this memorable trip we were on our way back from Tatoro, and late one afternoon we found ourselves camped in a deep canyon. One of the members of our crowd of teamsters, while exploring the canyon for firewood, came across a large opening in the side of the almost perpendicular cliff. He entered the opening and found himself in a large cavern. He hurried back to our camp and told us of his discovery, and as the nights were very cool we decided to spend the night there.

Bridge—Shure, mum, that ain't no male friend of mine at all—he's my husband.—Brooklyn Life.

Infallible.

Stout Gentleman—Spare diet, long walks etc., I could have managed all that without coming to this expensive place.

Doctor—Yes, but you forget the annoyance occasioned by the high prices, which of itself will go a long way toward reducing your weight.—Peeks-kill Journal.

Profession and Practice.

"Do any of you women believe in advanced women?" shouted the car conductor, putting his head in at the car door.

"Yes, we do," replied a woman holding on to a strap.

"Well, then, move forward."—Yonkers Statesman.

A Moral Question.

Johnny—Mamma, it ain't wicked when you do things you can't help, is it?

His Mother—I suppose not, Johnny. Why?

Johnny—"Cause I can't help thinkin' all the time how I'd like to go to the circus!"—Chicago Tribune.

Out of the Market.

Guest—Who is this Miss Highmind that all the ladies are so enthusiastic over? I never knew before of a woman whom every other woman spoke well of.

Host—She is a very fine old lady, and then lay down to get a few hours' sleep. We were all awake soon after daylight and discussed the best plan of removing the treasure. We finally agreed that we should all share the treasure equally, and that each man should be allowed to carry away all he could in his pockets, and that immediately after reaching Monterey return to the cave with conveyances to remove the money.

"This matter having been agreed upon each man loaded his pockets. The sun was shining brightly, and a flood of light came into the cavern through the opening, lighting up the interior. After we had filled our pockets we started to leave the cave, when suddenly the opening seemed to close, and the cave became entirely dark.

"Suddenly there appeared just before us an object the blackness of which was so very great that we could easily distinguish its outlines. It had the appearance of a monstrous man of the most hideous countenance. Uplifting one of its long arms, this object, in a tone of voice that echoed throughout the cave, warned us not to attempt to leave the cave with one single coin that we had discovered.

"Put all of the money back in the place from which you took it," said the object. "If any of you carry away a piece of the money, you will leave your soul behind."

They talk about the wise men of old, but, in my opinion, men are a great deal wiser to-day than they were then."

"What makes you think that?"

"Well, a man has only one wife at a time nowadays."—Town Topics.

To Dense for Him.

Stage Villain—Aha! The plot thickens!

Disgusted Auditor—Then I'm off! Can't make head or tail of it now, and I'll never see through it if it gets any thicker.—Poole.

Present Modes Encourage Individuality in Dress.

The Extremely Wide Skirt Is Not Having Things All Its Own Way—Expensive Dress Fabrics—The Proper Parasol for Summer.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

There is a certain amount of beauty, and reasonableness too, in the present modes when a costume is taken as a whole; although its various parts, considered separately, would not, I fear, deserve such praise. The enormous ruches round every neck are in reasonable proportion when considered in connection with the extreme width of the new skirts, and in combination with the latter the balloon sleeves do not look the monstrosities they really are.

There is another pleasing feature in the fashions of the hour, and one, I am sure, which will recommend itself.

They can be altered and modified by the skillful and artistic dressmaker so as to suit each individual style and figure.

That this commendable feature is not taken advantage of at present can be noticed in any assemblage of fashionably dressed women. And right here I am led to remark what a pity it is that more women, and especially those with both time and money at command, do not study themselves carefully and suit their gowns to their own peculiar style.

Then we would not see the fat sultan and the slender one wearing sleeves cut from the same pattern, nor the little woman and the large one dressed precisely alike, the only variation perhaps being in the mere matter of color.

Dressmakers who have just returned from Paris loaded down with novelties for a large and exclusive clientele inform me that all skirts seen there are wide, but that no two houses design them alike or stiffen them alike. The whole matter of skirts is, after all, one of individual taste and income. There will be quite as many skirts worn measuring only five yards at the hem as there will be of those that flare to eight or ten yards, and those worn last year will not be too old-fashioned for this season's use. I am assured on the highest authority that no stiffening will be used in the skirts of summer gowns. They are cut close fitting about the hips and fall in delightfully soft folds in the back from waist to hem.

Now that winter wraps are a thing of the past numerous jaunty and chic tailor-made gowns have put in an appearance. I saw a handsome young woman exploiting the charms of such a gown this morning on State street, and I followed her quite two blocks in order to note every detail of her frock. The coat and skirt were of Venetian cloth, green in color but very subdued in tone. The very short coat with godets in the back opened over a front

Indeed, so far is this craze for crinkled effects carried, that merchants have great difficulty in supplying the demand, even at what seems an exorbitant figure, for you must understand that a good piece of silk crepon cannot be bought under less than five dollars per yard. Black seems to be favored above any color, although I have seen some lovely gowns made up in the new shade of green, and also in various blues and grays. I have in mind, more particularly, a dainty frock in an exquisite shade of tan, with trimmings of velvet, golden brown in color, the overhanging vest in pale yellow chiffon, which is perfectly spangled.

Next in popularity to crepon are the soft, pretty taffetas. These silks make a most stylish gown, and a very inexpensive one too when their wearing qualities are taken into consideration. The prettiest of these silks by all odds come in an entirely new coloring called Madagascar. This new tint is a unique reddish yellow that shades into a lovely deep brown. Some have perfectly plain grounds while others have delicately tinted chine blossoms showing amid narrow black stripes. One of the daintiest gowns I have seen this season is shown in the picture. It is of deep blue taffeta with chine flowers of pale pink trailing over its surface. The skirt is very wide, made without stiffening and given a lining throughout of coral pink taffeta. The waist has a front of chiffon, and is shirred in tucks at the upper portion over a lining of pink satin. A chie finish is given to this bodice by a little jacket arrangement of applique fastened with an immense bow of satin ribbon. I might remark, en passant, that the ribbon bow placed on the front of the corsage is very up to date, and all the new gowns, whether they hail from London, Berlin or Paris, boast them.

MISS ELLEN OWNSLEY, who has been visiting in New York, Annapolis, Louisville and other points for six months, returned to her home in Lancaster, Tuesday. She was in fine health and spirits and even handsomer than ever. Mr. Letcher Owesley came over here to meet her.

CITY AND VICINITY.

FANCY shirts at Shanks'.

Go to Wilkinson's for a shave, hair cut and hot and cold baths.

NECKWEAR at Shanks'. Straw and wool hats in great variety at Shanks'.

The signal service sent this yesterday: "Fair, probably frost Friday morning."

Bug finish for potato bugs and cabbage worms, cheapest and best at W. B. McRoberts.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE for good buggy horse, a lady's bicycle. Apply to Mrs. B. N. Roller, Stanford.

THE Danville Hop Club will give a dance at Gilcher's to-night, when Saxton will furnish the music.

R. ZIMMER has purchased the stock of confections and groceries owned by S. Q. Royce and will continue the business at Week's old stand.—Richmond Climax.

ALL THE stores at Lancaster close at 7 o'clock p. m. There are no lights over them and the people are afraid to grope around in the darkness hunting for the stores after night.

Owing to the absence of Mr. Forestus Reid and other members of the board of trustees, the selection of a principal for the Stanford Female College was postponed to-morrow.

THE case against the L. & N. at Lebanon for extorting coal rates, after lengthy argument, was given to the jury at 3 o'clock yesterday, which had not reported when we went to press.

THERE will be quite a number of candidates for superintendent of public schools. Mr. W. S. Burch will likely be among the number and is now considering the advisability of announcing him-self.

DR. C. FOWLER KNOWS how to manage a turnpike. He notifies the stockholders of the Stanford & Knob Lick that a dividend of 6 per cent. on its capital stock has been declared and is payable on demand.

CHINA at Danks'.

BELT buckles, waist sets, etc., at Danks'.

Buy your clothing at Shanks'. Late styles, low prices and good quality is what you get there.

SALE—Mrs. Eliza Portman and Mrs. Lizzie McAlistair have bought Capt. Thomas Richards' property on Lower Main for $2,500 and will move to it next week.

MONSTROTY.—J. C. Hays, of the East End, had a chicken to hatch a few days ago with three legs. On one foot there were six toes, on another four and the other, three.

A NEW schedule on this division of the L. & N. will go into effect Sunday. The day trains will not be materially changed, but the night train South will arrive later and the one North earlier.

MR. A. TRIBBLE has given up the Gilcher House at Danville and will concentrate his energies upon his hotel at Junction City, which he will make one of the best on the line of the L. & N.

REMEMBER the Baughman sale next Tuesday. Two fine farms, valuable real estate, live stock, farming implements, household and kitchen furniture are to be sold. The sale will be one of the biggest ever held in the county.

SILVER is going up and in view of this we have purchased a big stock of solid silver spoons in good weights and elegant designs, which we will sell at the low price of $5 per set. Engraving free. Danks, the jeweler. Prompt attention to mail orders.

THIEVES attempted to get into Sheriff T. D. Newland's meat house Wednesday night and succeeded in breaking off the lock, but were evidently frightened off, Mr. Newland thinks, by the crying of his last born, whom he got up to see to and made a light.

JAILED.—Marshal Frank Ellis' examining trial for the killing of young Murphy at Junction City, has been continued till May 28, until which time Ellis will stay in jail. Col. W. G. Welch and Judge R. J. Breckinridge have been engaged to defend him.

THE removal of Judge T. L. Shelton from the post-office at Rowland was caused by a defect in his bond. The matter was remedied by executing another bond worth $50,000 and the order of removal was suspended. There was no charge of irregularity nor complaint as to the judge's management of the office.

SHERMAN BRUCK and Howard Deatherage, the darkies who engaged in a shooting affray at Moreland, had their examining trial before Judge Davison Tuesday.

Bruck was discharged and Deatherage was held over to circuit court in $100, which he could not give. It was proved that Deatherage fired four shots before Bruce shot at all.

JUDGE W. R. CARSON has become an inventor and hopes to be a millionaire yet. He has invented a tricycle that promises to eclipse the bicycle both in speed and ease of propulsion and become a most useful means of transit. It is very simple and easy of construction and the wonder is that somebody hadn't thought of it before. The judge has just built a scroll saw and stands also which is a marvel of ingenuity and precision.

THE new time card, now in effect on the Cincinnati Southern, has a number of changes. The local vestibule only runs out as far as Junction City now, arriving there at 11:35 a. m. and returning at 1:35 p. m., giving ample time for the Cincinnati connection from this point. The New Orleans Limited passes Junction City at 11:48 a. m. South and 3:35 p. m. North, the Q. & C. Special at 12:15 a. m. South and 3:15 a. m. North. There is no change in the arrival and departure of the accommodation, otherwise known as the Blue Grass vestibule.

A FELLOW, whom Cashier J. J. McRoberts did not know, went into the First National court day last and drawing a silver dollar from his pocket told the banker that he had given it to him and it was counterfeit. Mr. McRoberts took the coin and seeing that it was good dropped it in the drawer and gave the man another. Then the fellow pretended to discover that he had given the cashier the wrong dollar, but Mr. McR. said one was all he could redeem, as one was all claimed, and the fellow departed beaten at his own game.

FIFTEEN STATES have felt the effect of the present unusually cold wave, and while there has been much damage to vegetables and fruits, the amount is probably over estimated. Here only the tenderer vegetables have been killed.

The heavy foliage protected the fruit buds and a heavy rain following the frost, the damage was considerably lessened.

Squire Murphy says that the snap will cause many apple buds to fall, but they are so numerous that two-thirds might be lost and then there would be a full crop of apples.

The mercury was down to 30° here, and besides four frosts, ice formed to a considerable thickness. A very heavy rain fell all day Wednesday and that night, but the clouds lifted yesterday and there were indications that the back bone of blackberry winter had been dislocated, if not entirely broken.

Snow fell in a number of places in Kentucky, Wednesday. The nearest approach to it here was a pretty fierce hail storm for a few moments.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.—The McClarys not caring to contest for the superintendent's place, Judge Davison has, we learn, tendered the position to Miss Kate Blain. As this worthy young lady holds a first-class certificate and has taken much interest in educational matters, there is no doubt about her passing the requisite examination.

TURN OVER TO THE LADIES.—Tuesday next, May 21, A. B. Robertson & Bro., Danville, will turn their store over to the "Loyal Circle of King's Daughters." These ladies assisted by their friends will run the entire store, doing all the selling. A considerable portion of the day's sales will be contributed to the Chapel Fund of the First Presbyterian church of Danville. They will also serve refreshments in the store. Everybody solicited to come and help the ladies do a good business in their first day behind the counter.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

MARRS.—It is with deep regret that we chronicle the death of Mr. James R. Marrs, founder and for 20 or more years the editor of the Danville Advocate, which occurred at his home in Danville yesterday. Gentle as a woman, exceedingly careful of the feelings and rights of others, we do not suppose that he leaves an enemy or acquaintance, who will not sorrow over his death. The lateness of the hour that we received news of the death, precludes us as an extended notice as will appear in our next issue. The burial will occur at Danville Saturday.

MR. JOHN M. REID, after a long, useful and honorable career, sleeps with his fathers. For a long time he had been in bad health and for the last year his death has been expected. It came at 7 o'clock Monday night—the immediate cause being heart failure. Deceased was a son of John W. Reid, who came of good old Virginia stock, and was born in the West End of Lincoln in 1823. Of the seven children, Mrs. Amanda McMurry, Mrs. F. S. Read and Samuel and William Reid survive. After receiving a good education, Mr. Reid gave his attention to farming and was a most successful one.

In 1854, he married Miss Bettie Hays and to them five children were born, all of whom are living. They are Dr. Hugh Reid, Mrs. Fannie Jones, James C. Reid, Mrs. Mary Foster and Mrs. Bessie McKinney. Mrs. Reid died in 1881 at the age of 51. A man of sterling integrity and honest in all his dealings, Mr. Reid was a latter day exemplar of the gentleman of the old school. Always neat in appearance, a perfect Chesterfield in manners and dignified in bearing, he was universally respected and admired. The children have lost a fond and loving father, the community an excellent citizen and the democratic party one of its strongest and most faithful adherents, and all unite in genuine sorrow. Many friends and relatives followed the remains to Buffalo Cemetery at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, where after a short service, they were tenderly laid by the wife, for whose death he never ceased to grieve.

MR. REID left a good estate, which will be equally divided among his children, all of whom were present at the burial except Mrs. Breckinridge Jones, of St. Louis, who a few days ago gave birth to her third child and second daughter.

AMONG Mr. Reid's papers this scrap in his own writing was found: I was initiated in the secrets of Free and Accepted Masons in Hustonville Lodge in the year 1848 or '49. I demitted from that lodge about the close of the civil war and helped to establish a new lodge in Stanford. After affiliating with the brethren for quite a number of years (in the mean time served as Master) I demitted in good standing, A. R. Penny being Master of the lodge at that time.

J. M. REID.

A LONG life devoted to those he loved came peacefully to an end yesterday morning at 5 o'clock, when Mrs. Hannah M., wife of Capt. Geo. H. McKinney, breathed her last. She had been paralyzed for over a year, becoming more and more so till her tongue and throat refused to do her bidding and she literally starved to death. Along in the beginning of this century, three sturdy brothers, John, William and Joseph Paxton, came to Kentucky from Rockbridge county, Va., and settled.

Mrs. McKinney was the last survivor of nine children, born to the third mentioned, and she was 77 years old, being two days younger than her husband who survives her.

Her mother died and her father married the widow McKinney. Capt. McKinney was her son, so Mrs. McKinney and her husband were step-brother and sister. They had known each other for 65 years and had been married 50, and those who know tell us that no couple ever lived in greater love and affection.

To them six children were born, four of whom survive, A. A., J. I. and W. G. McKinney and Mrs. Will Royston. Mrs. McKinney was a second cousin of Gov. Sam Houston, of Texas, and the other distinguished men of that name were closely related to her. At an early age Mrs. McKinney united with the Presbyterian church and her whole life was a demonstration of the lines: "Tis religion that can give sweetest pleasures while we live." A good woman in every respect, she was loved by all who knew her and idolized by her husband and children. Truly can it be said of her "She did what she could" and henceforth a crown of righteousness will be hers.

The funeral services will be held at the residence at 10 o'clock this Friday morning by Revs. B. Helm and S. M. Logan, and then the remains will be taken to Buffalo Spring Cemetery and laid to rest.

DIED near Hustonville, May 11, Jas. C. Carson, aged 38 years. He leaves a wife and four children, besides his father and mother, one brother and sister, eight of the family having preceded him to the better land. His father being a worthy minister of the Methodist church. All was done for his recovery that medical skill could accomplish, assisted by the ceaseless nursing of a devoted wife. He became a member of the Methodist church in early life. Through most of these years the writer has known him as a devout Christian. He enjoyed the confidence and love of all his neighbors. By his request, the writer officiated on the occasion of his funeral service in the Christian church at Hustonville, and his pure, Christian life and bright hope down to his last hour, enabled us to speak in full assurance, of the certainty of his admission into our Father's heavenly home. W. L. Williams.

MR. L. E. Culbertson, who married Miss Kate Huffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Huffman, of Hustonville, died at his home in Covington this week. The wife and three children survive him.

Mrs. J. H. Ballard died at her father's, Mr. Logan Murphy, Wednesday, of consumption. She lived in Washington county and came up on a visit several weeks ago. Her remains were interred in Buffalo Cemetery yesterday.

WILLIAM D. SNOW, a prominent stock trader of Boyle, died Wednesday evening of inflammation of the bowels.

CARD OF THANKS.—I desire to thank from the bottom of my heart those who were so kind to me in my late bereavement. While my troubles have been almost greater than I could bear they have been assuaged not a little by the genuine sympathy and kindly assistance extended me. Mrs. Lizzie Hocker.
